DR. GATES' REMEDY FOR GONORRHOEA, LEUCORRHOEA,
AND ALL AFFECTIONS
OF THE URINARY ORGANS.

For the Speedy and Permanent Cure of Seminal Weakness, Neurasthenia and Nervous Debility, Impotency, and all Diseases arising from Solitary Habits, Excessive Indulgence.

THERE are thousands of YOUNG MEN, as well as MIDDLE AGED and OLD MEN, who are suffering to some extent from the above diseases, and who are not aware of their true condition, or when assistance is really needed.
For the benefit of such, we herewith give a few of the most common symptoms, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Head and Side, dimness of Sight, Dizziness and Vertigo, Loss of Memory, Faintness, Loss of Heart, Depression, Loss of Energy, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Timidity, etc. For each and all of the above symptoms these remedies will be found a "Sovereign Balm."
These remedies embrace three prescriptions: A box of Purifier, a box of Nervine Tonic Pills, and a box of Varie Tonic Pills, all of which have important offices to perform, and should be used together in every case. Their superiority over other modes of treatment may be briefly stated as follows, viz:
1. They diminish the violence of sexual excitement.
2. They immediately arrest nocturnal and diurnal emissions.
3. They remove local weakness, causing the organs to assume their natural tone and vigor.
4. They strengthen the constitution by overcoming nervous debility, general weakness, and all the evils which attend them.
5. They enliven the spirits, which are usually depressed, by expelling all exciting causes from the system.
6. By their invigorating properties they restore the patient to his natural health and vigor of manhood.
7. They cure when all other means have failed.
8. They contain no Mercury, no Opium, nor anything that can in any event prove injurious.
9. They are easy and pleasant to use, and will not interfere with the patient's usual business or pleasure.
10. They can be used without suspicion, or knowledge of even a room-mate.
That they may come within the reach of all, we have fixed the price of the Purifier at $1 per box, and the Pills at 50 cents per box each. In ordering by mail, in addition to the price, twelve cents in stamp, should be enclosed to return post charges.
LADIES in want of a safe and effectual remedy for Irregularities, Suppression, of the Menstrues, or any disease, peculiar to their sex, should use DR. GATES' FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS. Price by mail, $1 and one stamp.
CAUTION—These Pills should not be used during pregnancy, as miscarriage will be the consequence.
LADIES who, from ill-health, deformity, or any other human and reasonable cause, deem it necessary to have an increase of family, can do so without incurring danger to health or constitution by the use of M. La Caze's French Preventive Powders. Price, by mail, $1 and two stamps.
Send for DR. GATES' Private Medical Treatise on Secret Diseases; Price ten cents.

Advertising Agent for Heimstreet's Hair Restorative, writes:
DEAR SIR: The Medicines you introduced into our city last winter are all having a large sale, and giving in every case satisfaction. Mr. James Henderson (one of our first citizens) says, that "he has used all of the Hair Dyes and Restoratives of the day, but has never used an article equal to Himstreet's INIMITABLE Hair Restorative. That it far surpasses any preparation that he has ever tried for restoring the hair of the bald and gray to its original luxuriance and beauty."
You can write the Proprietors, W. E. HAGAN &

best Hair Restorative in our market, and that it

Pain Killer, as a remedy for Colds, Coughs, Burns, Sprains, and Rheumatism, for the cure of which have successfully used it, induces me to cheerfully recommend it to others.
A few months ago I had recourse to it to destroy a fever; although I had never heard of its being used for that purpose, but having suffered intensely from a fever, and having no other remedy at hand, I applied the Pain Killer freely for about five-teen minutes at evening, and repeated the application very briefly the next morning, which entirely destroyed the fever, and increased my confidence in the utility of the remedy.

THE PAIN KILLER
Has been tested in every variety of climate, and by almost every nation known to America. It is the almost constant companion and inestimable friend of the missionary and the traveler, on sea and land, and no one should travel on our LAKES or RIVERS WITHOUT IT.
Be sure you call for and get the genuine Pain Killer, as many worthless nostrums are attempted to be sold on the great reputation of this valuable medicine.

Change of Editors in the Commonwealth.

Mr. J. H. JOHNSON announces his formal withdrawal from the editorial management of the Frankfort Commonwealth. His place will be filled by Col. ORLANDO BROWN, well known as an editor of experience and a writer of taste and ability, whose pen has furnished some of the best documents emanating in opposition to Democratic principles for many years past. He and Col. HODGES founded the Commonwealth about thirty years ago, and he remained its editor for the first nine years of its existence. He has also filled important appointments under the State and Federal Executives. He is ardent, and, perhaps, ultra in his Union views; but will doubtless give the most complete satisfaction to the patrons of the Commonwealth. While differing with him on many points of policy, we entertain for him as a gentleman none but feelings of respect and friendliness, and wish that his present undertaking may prove agreeable and profitable. It is stated that Col. HODGES resumes the undivided control of the business department of the paper.

The Commonwealth calls attention to the fact that the Governor's proclamation ordering an election in the First Congressional District, is published in the Yeoman with a blank in the date, and adds that special instructions have been sent from the Executive office designating the day for the election. Our advertisement was set up from the official copy of the proclamation, and as we have careful proof readers in our public printing department, the copy was followed to a dot. The fault of omission, if there is any fault, rests somewhere else. But as the Secretary of State corrected the oversight so promptly, we think the Commonwealth might exercise its fault-finding propensities with more taste if not more profit than in attempting to fasten the charge of official negligence or criminality upon us, when the facts show that we discharged our duties in the case mentioned with perfect fidelity and accuracy. We followed copy, and had no right to fill blanks. Will the Commonwealth correct the impression its criticism might make against us?

The Death of Capt. Albert G. Bacon.

The following merited tribute to the social worth and gallantry of Captain Bacon, is clipped from the columns of our Frankfort cotemporary:

A telegraphic dispatch from General Crittenden was received here on Monday, containing the melancholy information that Capt. Bacon was killed in a skirmish at Sacramento, on Saturday. The locality of the place is not exactly known, but is supposed to be about twenty miles from Calhoun, the present headquarters of Crittenden's command.

We do not know that we have ever seen our community more disturbed than it was at this mournful announcement. Captain Bacon was a native of this county, and for the greater part of his life a resident of this town. No one had a more extensive acquaintance, and no one was more universally esteemed. He was a frank, genial, gallant man—the life of the social circle—full of kind and gentle impulses. Wherever he went, mirth seemed to wanton at his side, and he diffused around him an influence that made his companionship an affection with all. Cut down suddenly—the armed and patriotic soldier falling in the discharge of what he deemed a sacred duty to his Government and to his country! Such a war, and above all, such a civil war, it brings griefs unutterable; it desolates hearts; it causes humanity to mourn.

His remains reached here yesterday, and will be interred with the honors of war, in the Frankfort cemetery. His funeral will take place at the Christian Church, at two o'clock to-day.

Suspension of the Banks.

The telegraph announces that the banks of our great commercial centres, New York, Philadelphia, and Boston, have suspended specie payment. We apprehend that this will have a disastrous effect upon the business of the country.

If it would not be deemed treasonable to copy articles from the Louisville Democrat, we would quote its opinion of one of the members of the cabinet—well, we will pluck up a spirit and do it any how. Here it is:

Wells, the Secretary of the Navy, gave his brother-in-law a contract, by which he made money at the rate of $300,000 per annum. He is severely censured by the investigating committee of Congress, and should be removed.

Pro-Slavery Feeling in England.

Mr. Bourcault, in an advertisement acknowledges the "hourly receipt" of many letters, entreating that the termination of The Octoroon should be modified, and the slave heroine saved from an unhappy end. He can not, he says, "resist the kind feeling expressed through this correspondence, nor refuse compliance with a request so easily granted. A new last act of the drama, composed by the public and edited by the author, will be represented. He trusts the audience will accept it as a very grateful tribute to their judgment and taste, which he should be the last to dispute."

The gold fever rages at Vancouver's Island according to the latest advices sent to England, and a correspondent writes that it is common to meet men who have found sums of from $5,000 to $10,000; and lately three men arrived from Fraser River who made $80,000 between them in six weeks. Another man brought $80,000, the result of his summer's earnings, and several miners brought smaller sums. The steamer in which these men came down from the river brought about $250,000 in dust. The amount of gold taken out of a single district, named Cariboo, appears really fabulous.

Here is an old epigram in two lines—or rather an epigram, sharp enough to wake up the vixen if she were not very dead indeed:—
"Here lies my wife, Polly, a terrible scree; If I laid her to rest, then I should be too."

The Tea, Coffee and Sugar Tax—The Inequality.

We have already noticed the fact, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, that Congress has passed a law imposing a duty upon all kinds of tea twenty cents a pound, on coffee five cents on sugar two and half, three, five and eight cents, and on molasses eight cents per gallon. The New York Tribune remarks:

"With regard to the duty on tea this is to be said: while the qualities and prices of different kinds of tea are so various, there is manifest injustice in making no discrimination in the duties. The tea used by the poor—costing forty cents per pound—should not be made to pay as much as that of the rich, costing one dollar or more. We do not complain that twenty cents is too much for the lowest rate; but if it is the lowest, it should not also be the highest, while there is such a wide difference between the quality and price of the tea used by the two classes. If it is right for the poor to pay in this way, it is certainly right for the rich to pay proportionately; and this, under the system proposed, they will not do."

We welcome the New York Tribune upon the old Democratic platform of ad valorem duties, instead of specific, which latter was the idea that it favored for many years, and was incorporated in the bill that has just passed Congress. The argument that it now makes is familiar to the readers of this journal, which has always denounced the outrage of charging on a cheap article precisely as much duty as on a dear one, costing twice or three times as much, thus imposing an odious discrimination against the poor, who use the cheaper article or fabric, making them pay far more for the support of the Government than the rich. This tea, coffee and sugar tax is severe enough, even with a just discrimination in the duties. Let the cry go forth for an ad valorem modification of the bill.

The Constitution and the Union must Fall or Stand Together.

In 1851-'2 Daniel Webster uttered the following, which furnishes a lesson for the times:—
"If I have attempted to expound the Constitution, I have attempted to expound that which I have studied with diligence and veneration from my early manhood to the present day. If I have endeavored to defend and uphold the Union of the States, it is because my fixed judgment and my unalterable affections have impelled me, and still impel me, to regard that Union as the only security for general prosperity and national glory. Yes, gentlemen, the Constitution and the Union, I place them together. If they stand, they must stand together; if they fall, they must fall together."

That shows where Mr. Webster would have been found, if he had lived to the present time. He would not belong to that school of politicians who believe the Union can be saved by destroying the Constitution. Mr. Webster believed they "must stand or fall together."

Mr. Ely, our Congressman, has been exchanged, and has reached Washington. The New York Tribune says:

"Mr. Ely speaks in terms of high praise of the treatment extended to him by the people of Richmond. Thousands flocked to see him, and he received many presents, one of which—a writing-desk from a young lady—brings with him. Scarcely a day passed that bouquets were not sent him. One day he was given three good dinners. The books given him from time to time, but which he was obliged to leave behind, would make a very respectable library."

The Chicago papers claim that there is conclusive evidence that Illinois possesses from eight to ten millions of acres of land which will afford good merchantable cotton, from three hundred to five hundred pounds to the acre. During the coming year, says the Tribune, if Illinois cannot market her corn crop, she must turn her attention to cotton, flax, castor beans, sorghum, and other semitropical products.

To second the efforts of the New York Chamber of Commerce to secure a line of government steamships between California, Japan, and China, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has addressed a memorial to Congress on the subject. The annual freight paid in San Francisco to inward bound ships amounts to $4,250,000, while the out-freights of cereals alone have equalled seventy-five medium clipper loads per annum.

Wendell Phillips, formerly an avowed disunionist, on the score that slavery was protected by the Constitution within the Union, now proclaims himself a Unionist, on the score that he thinks the Union can be made the instrument of the destruction of slavery. He does not say what becomes of the Constitution under the latter arrangement. He is a fair representative of the Abolition party.

A Paris correspondent of the Brussels Independence states that an urgent request has been sent by the ex-Queen, Maria Amelia, to the two Orleans Princes serving in the Federal army, to return as quickly as possible to Claremont.

The people of Boston and New England, who rejoiced at the capture of Mason and Slidell, and jested Captain Wilkes for his participation in it, are now said to be just as well pleased at their release! They are a strange people!

An unlucky writer for EL Pueblo, of Madrid, has been condemned to 26 months imprisonment and a heavy fine, with the deprivation of his political rights, for having published in that journal a poetical satire on a high government official.

Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 31.
Advices from Kentucky state that an attack is hourly expected at the Green River Bridge. Gen. McCook had ordered all of the regulars over the bridge. Some three hundred of Buckner's cavalry from Bowling-Green made a reconnaissance, and were within two miles of the bridge yesterday. It is supposed that they intended making an attack in force to destroy the bridge. A regiment of fusiliers, and a regiment of light artillery went forward to Green River yesterday.

We wonder what has become of the disquisitions of the great international law commentators, Edward Everett, Caleb Cushing, General Cass, Reverdy Johnson, who demonstrated, through voluminous columns, that the seizure of Mason and Slidell by Capt. Wilkes was justifiable. — Cin. Enq.

General Scott's Return—The Reason For It.

Much speculation has been elicited by the speedy return of General Scott to the United States from Europe, where he had expected to stay some time. The reason of the sudden change of determination has been a mystery. The editor of the New York Evening Post has had an interview with the old General, and thus explains it. He says:

"It is known that the General intended to remain abroad several months, and to extend his journey to Italy, but the plan of his tour was changed solely for reasons connected with the present relations of our Government with foreign powers. Without reference to the interviews which took place between the General and Prince Napoleon, and afterward with Minister Thouvenin, it is stated that he would, in any event, have embarked for home at a very early period, in view of the possibility of a war between the United States and England, in which he would eventually be involved. The General felt that so long as he remained in Europe his free communication with this country might be interrupted, and that his speedy return might be prevented."

The General, who has had unusual opportunities of ascertaining the convictions of eminent men abroad, and of judging what course will be taken by England and France, is profoundly impressed with the danger of the breaking out of hostilities between England and the United States at a very early period, and believes in the necessity of prompt action on the part of our Government to prevent a collision. He is satisfied in what manner and for what causes will be explained hereafter that in no case can we expect any aid or even countenance from France, and believes that whatever action may be taken by the latter, will at least operate against us in the event of an appeal to arms.

The General, it may be added, is much gratified with what now appears to be the position of our Government, and regards the prospect of a peaceable adjustment of the difficulty as much better than it had seemed to be in Europe."

The Affair at Sacramento.

We have official accounts of this fight. On Saturday, as a command of one hundred and sixty-eight men, under Maj. Murray, of Jackson's regiment, were returning from a reconnaissance, they were pursued and surprised by some rebel cavalry at Sacramento. The men made but little resistance, and the gallantry of the officers cost us the services of several of them. Gen. Crittenden sent Col. Jackson with about five hundred men, two hundred and sixty of them infantry, with instructions to gather up the stragglers and wounded and to beat up the enemy. When Jackson reached Sacramento, he learned that the rebels left immediately after the fight, and were past pursuit. He found five of our men killed, and heard of several wounded. Capt. Albert Bacon, of Jackson's regiment, was killed; Capt. Davis, Lieut. Jouett and Walters are probably captured. The rebel force was estimated at seven hundred.

In addition to the above we have a letter from Owensboro' which states that Lieut. Robert H. King, of Frankfort, was wounded, John Jackson, from Calhoun, and — Phelps, of Owensboro', killed. This letter places the Federal loss at ten killed, eight taken prisoners, and about the same number wounded. We learn officially that forty of the whole party were missing at first, but it was hoped that some of them would find their way into camp. There were eight of the rebels killed and five taken prisoners. Col. Jackson buried the dead excepting his gallant friend Bacon, whose remains were taken to Calhoun, from whence they will be forwarded to Frankfort. A Lieut. Col. Meriwether, of the rebel force, was among the killed.

Since the above accounts were written we have had a conversation with Lt. J. J. Roberts, of Col. J. S. Jackson's cavalry, who arrived in this city last evening with the remains of the gallant Captain Bacon, who fell in the engagement. Lieut. Roberts gives us the following particulars of the affair: Early on Saturday morning two squadrons of Col. Jackson's regiment, under command of Maj. Murray, left the camp near Calhoun, on a scouting expedition across Green river. When they arrived at South Carrollton, the squadrons separated, and the first returned towards Calhoun by way of Sacramento, at which place they were surprised by seven hundred rebels under command of Col. Forester. Our troops were fired upon by the rebels before they were aware of their presence, and, at first, believed they were attacked by Major Megowan, of Col. Jackson's cavalry, through mistake. The officers, though our ranks were broken, rallied the troops as soon as they discovered the true state of affairs, and, for half an hour, our officers and men, without exception, displayed the most heroic valor and determination in a hand-to-hand engagement of the bloodiest character, and only retreated when their ammunition gave out. Our loss consisted of Capt. A. G. Bacon, who had his horse shot from under him, and was killed in the retreat, and seven privates. Lieut. R. H. King, of Frankfort, was slightly wounded, and seven or eight privates were wounded more or less severely. The rebels lost their loss at thirty when they reached Greenville. Among the rebels killed was Lt. Col. Meriwether, of Hopkinsville.

The rebels left Capt. Bacon in the woods in a dying condition, having stripped him of his watch and rifled his pockets.

Lou. Jour., Jan. 1.

The British Gun-Boats and Cincinnati.

The London correspondent of the New Haven (Ct.) Register, after speaking of the violent Anti-American feeling which now prevails in England against this country, says:

"Such is the counsel that prevails in this country. Really, it partakes of the character of their own madhouse Bedlam. Volunteer corps are offering themselves to be embarked for Canada; and their steamships Black Prince and Warrior are spoken of as being nearly ready to bombard New York and Boston. Were not the subject too serious for us to ridicule, I should say the same authorities believe themselves capable, with their Armstrong guns, of reaching even St. Louis and Cincinnati."

So it seems, in case of a war with Great Britain, we are to look out for a fleet of British gun-boats at Cincinnati, via New Orleans and Cairo!

AMERICAN MATTERS IN ENGLAND.—The London correspondent of the Boston Commercial Bulletin, writing under date of November 20th, says:

America, American stock, and Americans, are just now a long way below par in this market, and those that are engaged in business with the United States are in great consternation. As straws show which way the wind blows, I will cite one case to show the state of public feeling here against the United States. A large American publishing house in London, who had built up an excellent business throughout Great Britain, and had met with extensive sales for their publications, have found an immense falling off in their business within the past few weeks, owing to the bitter feeling existing here against anything American. In Manchester, Liverpool, and other important places, business is very dull. American shipping is lying perfectly idle, underwriters will not insure, and shippers will not ship in American bottoms.

TELEGRAPHIC.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Times.]

BALTIMORE, Dec. 26.

Mr. Ely arrived here this morning and proceeded to Washington on the first train. He is in excellent health, and reports that the entire South is a unit, and will fight until they achieve their independence. He has no hope of subjugating the South, and is in favor of letting the Southern States out of the Union.

Two more steamers have run the blockade off Charleston. The Paris Patrie says the governments of France, Spain, and Prussia have been consulted by the English Government on the Trent affair, and all have replied that it was a flagrant violation of the rights of a neutral power.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.

The following is the bill introduced into the House to-day by Mr. Stevens, on leave: First—That all laws or parts of laws creating and establishing courts of entry or delivery in any State in rebellion, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Second—Hereafter no vessel, either foreign or domestic, except such as belong to, or are employed by the Government of the United States, shall enter or leave any of said ports unless driven thereto by stress of weather.

Third—If any vessel shall violate or attempt to violate the provisions of this act, the said vessel, cargo, and everything appertaining thereto shall be forfeited; the one-half to go to the captors and the other half to the United States; and every person is hereby authorized to make such seizures, and the captain or commander of such vessel shall be fined, not exceeding $500.

Fourth—The said vessel and cargo may be seized at any place at sea or in any port, and the goods may be taken wherever found, either on land or water.

Fifth—The proceeds shall be divided among the captors, according to the law now regulating prizes.

Sixth—The ship and cargo may be tried, as well as the officers, in any court in the United States into whose jurisdiction the same may be taken.

Seventh—The States now in rebellion are Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Arkansas, and if any other States should hereafter become rebellious, the President shall proclaim the fact, and the provisions of this act shall then apply to such State or States. The President shall have power to declare any harbor or harbors, ports of entry when, in his judgment, it shall become expedient.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30.

The banks of this city have resolved to suspend specie payment, in consequence of the suspensions in New York.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 30.

The surrender of Mason and Slidell, and the suspension of specie payment by the New York banks, produced a feeling of relief in business circles.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.

Mr. Cunard, of this city, agent of the Cunard line, states that the steamer Niagara will not sail for Liverpool until her regular day, January 1st.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.

At a conference of our city banks on Saturday evening, by an enormous vote, they resolved upon an immediate suspension of specie payments. The heavy draft upon their coin caused by their large advances to the government, rendering this step, in their judgment, necessary. We presume it will be quite generally followed in the large cities, though the draft upon our city banks results from causes which tend rather to strengthen than weaken the banks of the interior.

BOSTON, Dec. 30.

By instructions from Lord Lyons, the Niagara, which arrived here on Saturday, will leave to-morrow (Tuesday) for Liverpool, taking out Mason and Slidell. The Persia, now in the St. Lawrence, will come to Boston and take the place of the Niagara for Monday, the regular day.

The Presidents and Directors of the banks of this city held a meeting this morning, and resolved to suspend specie payment forthwith.

HALIFAX, Dec. 31.

Passengers by the Asia here report a rumor that the blocking up of Charleston harbor with stone is likely to lead to a difficulty with European powers. It is further rumored that England's warlike preparations will continue in view thereof, and that the surrender of Mason and Slidell are not the whole of England's demands.

The steamship Asia will sail at 6 P. M. for New York.

Papers brought by the Asia contain no real news. The Paris correspondence of the Journal says the belief that hostilities between England and America will not be arranged, has become more general. The admiralty had notified that instructions had been sent to protect British shipping in the India and China seas.

There will be no telegraphic news reports from New York to-morrow, the day being observed as a general holiday.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 31.

The Citizens' Bank suspended specie payment to-day.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.

George Opdyke, the Mayor elect, took the usual oath yesterday. It was administered by Mayor Wood.

Times Correspondence.—Lord Lyons was in conference to-day with Secretary Seward, relative to the time and manner of the release of Mason and Slidell. They will not be released for some days, as there is no British vessel likely to leave for some time. They will probably go in the British mail steamer, which leaves next Wednesday week. It was proposed that they should go out on a British man-of-war, but our Government decided upon a less ostentatious mode.

The "contraband" question is thus discussed by a Kentucky correspondent of a Cincinnati paper:

"You can have some idea of how the contraband question is magnifying here when I tell you that five or six are in the employment of every company in our regiment; and then how the number swells when we take into consideration the number of regiments here, each of which have their equal share. And still they come, day and night. Wherever our army makes its appearance slaves are warthicks."

"The idea of freedom is a contagious disease among them, and when it once takes possession of them it seems to ignite, and the flame spreads over the whole neighborhood. A lady, clad in the Southern aristocracy, came in the other day and demanded her 'servant.' He was delivered over, and the mistress started with him back in bondage; but I was somewhat surprised the next morning to see the forlorn Ethiopian, without employment, gawking around in our camp, and he said, 'de next time dey catch me I will put 'em to some trouble.' And thus it is with every one. They have no idea of being remanded back in bondage."

The Cincinnati Gazette says it appears that the demand for the release of Mason and Slidell was "somewhat peremptory." Well, it does have that look, sure enough. — Louisville Democrat.

1st. They never fail to perform a speedy and permanent cure.

2d. They are recommended only for one class of diseases.

3d. They are agreeable and convenient to take.

4th. They contain no poisonous minerals, being purely vegetable.
